Some Eigenvalue Problems in Computational Physical Sciences

Weiguo Gao

Fudan University

In this talk, we will introduce a few linear and nonlinear eigenvalue problems arising from physical sciences. Numerical methods for solving them and some existing issues will also be discussed.